
BEIN AND THE WORLD OF THE COLORS

An Emotional Fantasy by Eleanor Lian — IP Overview

Genre: Emotional Fantasy / Coming-of-Age / Magical Realism

Format: Children's Novel / Illustrated Story

Status: Complete manuscript, 23+ concept images, full character roster

LOGLINE

A boy discovers that every emotion has a color — and that colors can heal, hurt, and reshape the world around him.

STORY

Bein is a quiet boy who sees the world differently — literally. Every emotion around him manifests as a visible color. Anger is crimson. Joy is gold. Sadness is deep blue. Fear is grey. When his family faces a crisis that drains all color from his world, Bein must journey through the Land of Faded Hues to find the Source of All Colors.

THEMES: Emotional intelligence, family bonds, grief and healing, the beauty of feeling deeply.

KEY CHARACTERS:

Bein (protagonist, young boy who sees emotions as colors)

Mamma Caryl (nurturing mother), Sammy (protective older brother)

Anton (curious friend), Fion (guide, joy personified)

Fearfy (personification of fear), Maith (the color witch)

Wacky (chaos spirit, trickster)

TONE: Inside Out meets The Little Prince meets The Boy and the Heron.

RIGHTS AVAILABLE: Animation, Children's Book, Game, Merchandising.

Interested? Contact: info@robertocalvoproductions.com